Slopestyle

This Sunday's Tommy Moe event was a slopestyle contest. Slopestyle refers to a type of competition where skiers and snowboarders make a run through a course that is filled with varying fun features. Our course consisted of jumps, bumps, boxes and rollers. Each contestant got two runs and their score was based on how well they utilized the features on their way down. Organizing the event was Brett Urbach and judging the contest was Derek Wittenberg and Steve Knox. The next Tommy Moe Sunday is February 25th and will be a skiers slalom race.
